What The Phlock Is Going On

Pg1

The OMPH Annual Christmas Party

Paula and I got there a little before 5:30 after dealing with the bitter cold. We quickly got thawed out after seeing a few smiling Parrot Heads who had got there early and already had a head start on the party.

The place gradually filled up as people drifted in. There were some old faces some new faces and there were three or four visitors one of whom was Sharon Page's mother. Some pretty good food was served up by the good folks of The Golden Coral and enjoyed by all.

After the welcoming words and a toast to those who worked hard to get the party up and running, and the traditional team drink the party started. Rick and the boys were most excellent as always putting out some great stuff that kept us out on the dance floor. I am sure there were some sore people the next morning especially those who recently had knee surgery.

During the band's breaks door prizes were handed out which gave the mini mart the opportunity to get rid of some surplus inventory. Also there were some sacks of booze given out as prizes.

As the night went on the band got some help from Bud Page and Chris Reed in their excellent rendition of Margaretville.

At about 11:00 Paula and I went home. Paula had to get up at the butt crack of dawn and go to work I am sure the party lasted until the wee hours of the morning. So leaving early or late everyone had a great time.

Meet The Phlockers

Bill Woods and Mary Bertalott.

We have been members since 2005. We joined because after attending a Phlock on the Rock, we knew this was where we belonged. We love the tropical lifestyle and Jimmy Buffett music. Our goal is to live on the beach where it is warm. Bill will make surfboards and I will be his assistant. Bill is retired from law enforcement and works part-time at the Greene County Courthouse.

I am an Assistant Supervisor at Oxford Healthcare. Between us we have 4 kids, and 5 grandkids. Our hobbies other than traveling to warm weather places are, listening to Jimmy Buffett music, Cruize Control music, and OMPH activities. We also like old antique cars. We currently have a 1955 Ford Ranch wagon that we are looking forward to traveling around in.

Thanks for everything you do!

Mary and Bill
